

PRE-ECLAMPSIA SCREENING IN 1st TRIMESTER

Record medical history

- First pregnancy?
- Previous or family history with pre-eclampsia?
- Ethnicity
- Chronic hypertension?
- Smoking?
- Weight AND height.

Test blood using PIGF 1-2-3™ assay

Measure blood pressure

Take 2 measurements in both arms simultaneously.

Relaxing position

Arms at the level of the heart

Correct cuff size: S, M, L

Both feet on the floor

Ultrasound

If accessible, measure uterine artery doppler ultrasound.

Product is not available for sale in the US.

PerkinElmer products referred here are not available in the USA and Japan. Prior to registration, products are not available in China, Canada, certain Latin American countries and certain Asian countries. Please check availability with your local distributor.

1599-9846

WHAT DO THE PRE-ECLAMPSIA SCREENING RESULTS MEAN?

Medical history

PIGF 1-2-3™ assay

Blood pressure
Ultrasound*

Risk calculation software

Low risk

Normal pregnancy monitoring

High risk

Increased pregnancy monitoring
Recommended treatment

*Risk calculation can be performed without ultrasound if access is limited.

